Yesterday, NCUA announced that the bidding process for the payment services offered by U.S. Central Bridge did not result in the selection of acquirers beyond the purchase of the services of Corporate Network eComm by CO-OP Financial services. NCUA plans to move forward with an orderly wind-down of the other services provided by U.S. Central Bridge services in 2012. No specific dates have been provided at this time.

Alloya Corporate has been monitoring this situation closely, and has made plans for this eventuality. The corporate will now move forward in finalizing those plans. When contracts have been approved by its board and executed, Alloya will make appropriate announcements of the vendors, timelines, and other details relating to this event. In the interim U.S. Central Bridge will continue to provide uninterrupted service during this transition period in order to provide for an orderly wind-down as stated by NCUA.
